Four Fires in One Day Sets Record

The LaSalle Fire Department has been kept on its toes these past few weeks, and has set a new record of answering four calls in one day, two of which were at the same time. Since the beginning of this year there have been 36 calls, 9 which were this month.

On November 3rd at 4:05 pm the Fire Department answered a call to the home of Mr. Mark Chappus where they found a pile of brush and three fires in his driveway on fire. The fire was extinguished with an L and one half hose line directly from the hydrant.

A call was answered on Nov. 14th at 7:30 p.m. to the home of Mr. Steptoe at Superior and George Streets. When Mr. Steptoe discovered that his young son had turned on the oil heater without a fire in it, he removed some of the oil. He then lit it and it flared up. No damage was done.

On November 17th at 2:20 pm a grass fire was put out with troons at Main and Mathech Road. A Mrs. White placed the call.

Two grass fires were put out on November 19th. The first call came at 1:36 p.m. to Reaume Road near Malden Road. Two homes were endangered, but after two hours the Fire Department brought the fire under control. The second call was to a marsh fire near Sam Chappus' cottages at the Sunnyside. This fire came within three feet of one cottage, but the fire was extinguished without any damage.

The four calls were made on November 20th. The first call came at 2:10 p.m. from Mrs. Reaume that a grass fire was burning in a lot near her home and that a garage owned by Mr. V. Paul of Adams Lane was endangered. Before the fire truck got away, a second call came in from Mr. Broughton on Reaume Road. The Fire Department remained long enough to bring the first fire under control. Some men stayed there and the rest went to put out the fire on Reaume Road.

At 4:00 p.m. they were called to put out a fire in a field near Colonel Bishop School, the call being placed by Mrs. Bondy, and at 5:30 p.m. they were called to put out a grass fire near the home of Mr. T. Baltzer.

Needless to say, at the close of this day the LaSalle Fire Department had a busy day.

RECIPE HINTS

Apples-on-a-Stick

Two cups sugar, ¼ cup light corn syrup, ¼ cup water, 12 apples, 12 skewers, red coloring, few drops flavoring oil.
Select well-flavored red apples. Wash thoroughly and insert skewers in the blossom end.
Cut sugar, corn syrup and water into a saucepan and cook, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking, without stirring, until temperature of 300 degrees is reached. Add sugar crystals thrown on the sides of the pan should be washed away with a wet cloth. Cooking should be slow so that syrup will not darken.
Remove syrup from fire and set the saucepan into boiling water so the syrup will not cool and thicken. Add enough coloring to make the syrup a bright red. Add flavoring oil, peppermint, clove or cinnamon may be used. Holding the apple by the skewer, plunge it into the hot syrup, drawing it out quickly and twisting it until the syrup runs down the stick and spreads smoothly over the apple. Stand the skewer in a small rack or vase so the apple does not touch anything while hardening. A flat bottom can be made by putting the apple in a bowl or cup, where only the bottom touches. Rapid dipping a necessary or the syrup will become too stiff for coating. Make plenty.

Campaign to Minimize Ice Box Hazards

TORONTO—Canadian refrigerator manufacturers are embarking on a campaign through their 12,000 dealers across Canada to minimize the hazard of young children closing themselves in abandoned ice boxes and refrigerators. The manufacturers are advising all dealers to ensure that appliance servicemen and purchasers of new refrigerators remove the doors or lids from their old cabinets before discarding them.

In addition to the educational campaign through dealers, the refrigerator manufacturers will issue a sticker for new refrigerators which will warn purchasers of the potential hazard of discarded cabinets.

According to the household refrigeration Section of the Canadian Electrical Manufacturers Association, refrigerator manufacturers are profoundly concerned over the number of recent deaths of small children who have been suffocated as a result of locking themselves in old ice boxes, refrigerators, trunks, chests and other airtight containers. The refrigerator manufacturers are taking the lead in informing the public about safety first steps insofar as their own products are concerned.

"It has been estimated that there are some 3,000,000 ice boxes and refrigerators in use in Canada today," stated George Harrison, Chairman of CEMA's Household Refrigeration Section "and these are being discarded at the rate of 100,000 units per year. The old cabinets usually wind up in summer camps, backyards, basements or garages.

"If the cabinets are being sold for scrap," Mr. Harrison warned, "then they should be completely destroyed. Where the cabinets are being held for resale or temporarily stored then the doors, lids, hinges or latches should be removed. If this is not feasible, then the cabinets should at least be placed with their doors against a wall."

The refrigerator manufacturers have investigated the possibility of providing safety releases for new household refrigerators. Mr. Harrison pointed out, but this has been shown to be highly impractical. Even if a completely foolproof latch could be devised, which is extremely doubtful, it would not solve the potential hazard of the 3,000,000 cabinets in use today.

More important, however, is the fact that a safety release would only provide a false sense of security, since there would be no assurance that small children, in a state of panic, would have the knowledge, strength or ability to operate such a device in total darkness. This is borne out by the common experience of young children who cannot unlock a bathroom door after locking themselves inside, even when being told how to do so by their parents on the outside.

A sound analysis of the situation proves beyond a doubt, Mr. Harrison added, that the most effective means of combating this problem is through a wide-spread educational campaign on the part of all manufacturers of sizable air-tight containers used in the home, so that every householder in Canada will recognize the problem involved and do his share towards eliminating this potential hazard to our young children.

Towards this end, some municipalities have enacted ordinances requiring the removal of doors or lids from discarded ice boxes or refrigerators, but this is not widespread.

Mr. Johnson revealed that he had never been in Ottawa before.

He knows little about anything except wheat-growing; this he is "an advocate of pure competition" who thinks "a monopoly can get us into an awful mess."

What CCF leaders will do with a young man who supports competition and opposes monopolies remains to be seen. Certainly, they will have to deal with him if he opposes rural monopolies such as the Canadian Wheat Board; or communications monopolies such as CBC and TCA.

Another example is Mr. Elmore Philpott, Leftist columnist and broadcaster elected by Liberals in Vancouver South. Writing recently in Vancouver Sun, Mr. Philpott described himself as a confused Liberal, "full of contradictions and inconsistencies."

He explained: "I am confused about finding ways to sell our wheat without Uncle Sam, not to mention Uncle Joe. I am confused about a thousand other problems."

Mr. Philpott confesses he has "a strong streak of Irish in me that inclines me to be 'agin the government"—every government, everywhere. Sitting on the government side of the House may cramp my style a bit." Latter observation, as he will rapidly find out, is a masterpiece of understatement.

Editorial

DANGEROUS fanaticism characteristic of many socialists is revealed in vicious attack launched against the press by Aneurin Bevan. Addressing a political rally in Coventry, Bevan charged that the British people are "among the most ignorant in the world" and "practically insane" living in "an intellectual twilight" because British newspapers "are no longer newspapers." They are power papers, used not for the purpose of communicating news to people, but for indoctrinating ideas and concealing from people things they ought to know.

Occasion for Bevan's outburst was, he claims, failure of British newspapers to print full text of Soviet Union's recent note on four-power talks.

Implicit is Bevan's attack on British press is purpose latent in mind of every true socialist of imposing political censorship and making the press the tool of socialist dictatorship. Tradition of freedom of the Press, strong with newspapermen and public alike, is best guarantee that Bevan will never be given opportunity to carry out his thinly-veiled threat of muzzling the press.

Important threat for Canadians to remember is that in this country, private radio and television share with the press responsibility for maintaining freedom of news and of opinion.

Freedom of freedom of speech imposes on broadcasters same responsibility to impose every instance of restrictive legislation with same vigor as would be manifest by press if attempt was made either by cabinet or bureau to restrict freedom of news coverage or editorial comment.

CANADIAN Voters sent some remarkable people to Parliament August 10. Example is Mr. Merwin Johnson, 30-year old farmer who was elected as CCF member for Kindersley, Saskatchewan.

Interviewed by Toronto Telegram at Parliament's opening, Mr. Johnson revealed that he had never been in Ottawa before.

He knows little about anything except wheat-growing; this he is "an advocate of pure competition" who thinks "a monopoly can get us into an awful mess."

What CCF leaders will do with a young man who supports competition and opposes monopolies remains to be seen. Certainly, they will have to deal with him if he opposes rural monopolies such as the Canadian Wheat Board; or communications monopolies such as CBC and TCA.

Another example is Mr. Elmore Philpott, Leftist columnist and broadcaster elected by Liberals in Vancouver South. Writing recently in Vancouver Sun, Mr. Philpott described himself as a confused Liberal, "full of contradictions and inconsistencies."

He explained: "I am confused about finding ways to sell our wheat without Uncle Sam, not to mention Uncle Joe. I am confused about a thousand other problems."

Mr. Philpott confesses he has "a strong streak of Irish in me that inclines me to be 'agin the government"—every government, everywhere. Sitting on the government side of the House may cramp my style a bit." Latter observation, as he will rapidly find out, is a masterpiece of understatement.

HIGH COST of creating new jobs in post-war Canadian manufacturing is shown in figures published in October issue of Labor Gazette. According to that official publication, expansion of manufacturing facilities from 1948 to 1953 has provided 104,200 new jobs.

Funds invested in new machinery and equipment during same period totalled $9.07 billion. Fair estimate is that three-quarters of this amount was spent in providing additional manufacturing potential.

Such being the case, cost of providing a job for each of the 104,200 new workers in manufacturing was approximately $6,269. In some industries, such as steel, cost per job was much higher.

Conclusion to be drawn from these figures is that level of employment is directly related to amount of funds available to industry for development and expansion. High taxes and unreasonable wage demands on part of trade union leaders are greatest threat to creation of new employment opportunities.

Old Age Pensions without means test of $75 a month, beginning at age 65 for men and 60 for women are demanded by Labor Progressive party organ, The Canadian Tribune. This is communist response to Canadian Congress of Labor which, in September, went on record as demanding $55 a month pension without means test for all Canadians at age 65.

Annual cost of present $40 month-old age pension without means test at age 70 has already reached staggering total of $345 million annually and three-way 2 per cent increase to the cost of producing revenue required to meet payments.

Based on 1951 census figures, annual cost of CIO pension proposal would be $847.3 million, or $502 million a year more than such pensions are costing today. Communist pension proposal, reducing age limit to women to 60 years, is estimated as likely to cost not a penny less than $1,150 million annually.

Neither communists nor the CIO appear to the least concerned regarding the disastrous economic consequences of their respective pension proposals.
